What happened at the airport? A thief stole her credit card. steal stole (past)

Susan is a student. Last year she went on holiday to Spain. It was her birthday so it was 5th May. She did not have much money so she wanted to stay at a cheap hotel. She did not book a hotel. She wanted to get a room after arriving to the hotel. But when she arrived at the airport in Spain a thief stole her credit card. She did not have much money, so she did not stay at the hotel. She stayed in a tent on the beach but she liked it. She saw many interesting things there. She saw the sea, the stars at night and many people. She ate ice-cream and pasta. The weather was nice. It did not rain. She liked the hot days because she swam in the sea and tanned on the beach. She bought some postcards and sent them to her friends and relatives. She did not stay on the beach all her holiday. She travelled around Spain by bus. It was not expensive. She was happy that she had a one-month holiday because there were so many interesting places to see. She liked everything, but she did not like the coffee, so she drank wine and tea. The weather was very hot so she swam in the sea every day. She did not speak Latvian, she spoke English. She visited many monuments but she did not visit galleries or museums because she does not like museums and galleries. She met a lot of new people and she liked it. But Susan had two more problems on her way. First she lost her camera with all her photos, and when she was on a plane back to Riga a thief stole her purse. Luckily there was no more money. When she arrived at Riga airport she called her parents and they took her home.

Which country do you wish to travel to? Why?

Why do people travel? Is necessary to travel?

Travelling is very important for anyone, because it has many benefits= profits = advantages.

First, we can discover new countries new towns or new places.

Second, we can meet new people and strike up new friendships.

Then, we can visit interesting historical sites, visit museums , art galleries and old ruins.

After that, we can know about other people, traditions and cultures

Next , travelling broadens the minds and makes us open on the other world

Finally, when we travel we can learn new languages, and get an/ learn an experience.
